SEO Audit Report

samplewebsite.org

Congratulations! Your SEO audit is complete and ready for review. Now it's time to elevate your SEO and climb those rankings.

I utilized various tools to gather data from your site. After analyzing the information and benchmarking your pages against top competitors, I've put together a prioritized list of tasks that need your attention.

To ensure you have clear and actionable steps, I've included screenshots and detailed instructions for addressing each issue. If you're uncertain about implementing any of the recommendations, don't worry. You can always reach out for help, or I can take care of the fixes for you.

Here's what is covered in this report:

Free Ad Opportunities for Nonprofits

Prioritized To-Do List

Let's start by looking at your current organic traffic…

Organic Traffic

Keep in mind that we only have a week's worth of data since setting up Google Analytics. This is also right after completing summer camp for the year, so it is not surprising that your traffic isn't higher.

	First user prim…Channel Group)	New users	Engaged sessions	Engagement rate
		12 100% of total	11 100% of total	64.71% Avg 0%
1	Organic Search	7	9	75%
2	Direct	5	2	40%

In the past 28 days, you've had 12 new users to your site. As you can see, it's about half organic search and half direct traffic. Direct traffic is the users that visited your site by typing in your exact URL. Organic search is the amount of users that typed something into the search bar, found your website, and clicked on it. Increasing the organic search traffic is what SEO optimizations are all about, so that is where we will focus our efforts.

Of those users, most are from Seattle, as expected.

Search… Rows per page:

	City	Users	New users	Engaged sessions	Engagement rate	Er se p
		12 100% of total	12 100% of total	11 100% of total	64.71% Avg 0%
1	Seattle	6	6	9	81.82%
2	Ashburn	1	1	0	0%
3	Kirkland	1	1	1	100%
4	North Charleston	1	1	0	0%
5	San Jose	1	1	0	0%
6	University Place	1	1	1	100%
7	Waukesha	1	1	0	0%

These are the pages that were viewed by these users.

	Page title and screen class	Views	Users	Views per user	Average engagement time
		43 100% of total	12 100% of total	3.58 Avg 0%	40s Avg 0%
1	Camp Agagpe Northwest | Home	17	7	2.43	11s
2	History and Mission | Camp Agagpe Northwest	9	3	3.00	42s
3	Information | Camp Agape Northwest	8	4	2.00	52s
4	Run For Agape 5K | Camp Site	8	5	1.60	12s
5	Gallery | Camp Agagpe Northwest	1	1	1.00	0s

These are the terms that people had typed into the search bar when they found you and clicked on your website. Notice that they are all business name related, meaning that they had already heard of you and just needed to find your website. Let's get you some more keywords to rank for.

Organic Search Positions 27 + Add to list | Manage columns 11/16

camp agape nw	N		7	1	0.83	50	25	www.campagapenw.org/

Goals: I propose primarily focusing on 2 main goals right now.

1. Return summer camp participants, volunteers, and donors to your site for highlights of how camp went and excitement about next year, as well as any fundraising activities planned for the year. - Especially for this month - ASAP. The benefits of this timely goal is to increase search engine rankings by keeping your website active and visited AND in order to keep excitement up for participation next year.
2. Bring in new and returning donors. Now until the end of December. - Measure this by looking at the pages that people visited on your site (donate page) and keyword search terms. Priority!

The rest of this report will include how to reach these goals as well as how to optimize your site in general for search engine optimizations.

On-Page Optimizations

Keyword Strategy

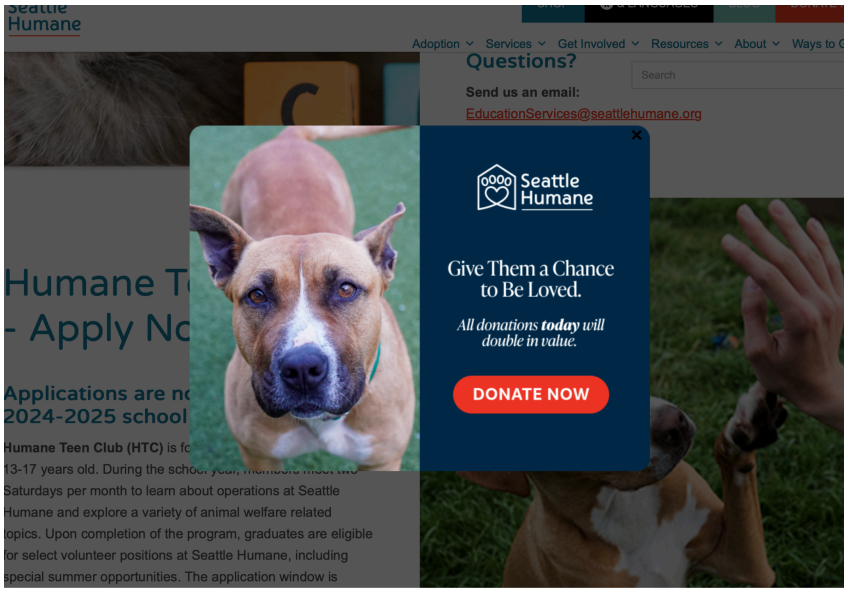

Keyword strategy is the number one priority in on-page SEO. Once we decide upon quality keyword phrases that people are using to search in Google, we can implement them in multiple places on your website. Each page needs to be optimized for a different keyword. There are places that people see like the text on the page and the headings, but also some backend places like image file names and alt text, meta descriptions, etc.

For your charity, because it's such a specific niche, I am sticking with long-tail keyword phrases to show up for people searching for exactly what you offer.

Home Page

I recommend we optimize your homepage for the keyword 'family camp for kids with cancer washington'. You don't have to use exactly this phrase over and over on your page, but we will make sure it looks just like this on the backend, and then on the front-end we can play around with variations of it.

Add a pop-up for donating similar to this one. Include a picture of a kid or family looking at the camera at camp.

Family

I recommend we optimize this family page with the keyword “Washington Summer Camp for Cancer Families”

Add more information to this page. You could walk through what the experience is like. Do they stay in family cabins and what do they look like? What is a sample day activity schedule? What does the food look like? How many families attend? You can also add some more testimonials.

Add what month sign up starts and their email to get informed when registration opens up.

Add FAQ to the bottom of this page.

Volunteer

I recommend we optimize your volunteer page with the keyword “volunteer opportunities near seattle summer camp”.

In addition, you should add a lot more copy on the page including things like how volunteering can help get you into college. Provide some more examples about the type of work opportunities they can volunteer for. I love the testimonials with pictures. Add in the city these volunteers are (were) from. Also, add helpful information like what month volunteer forms are available for summer 2025 and an opportunity to capture their email to inform them when applications open. You could also use this email capture to send volunteer-related blog posts as part of your blog strategy.

Donate:

For your donate page, I recommend you optimize for the keyword “donate to childhood cancer washington”. Some other high search keywords you should make sure to include somewhere on the page are “tax deductible donations”, “charitable giving”, “pediatric cancer”, “end of year giving)”.

In addition, you should add a lot more text and images. You can use this page to spotlight donors, share pictures of kids and camp, what an impact your donation can make, ideas for donation amounts, employee matching programs, and really pull at people’s heartstrings. Be transparent in the cost. How much does it cost for one family to attend? How much does it cost to run the whole camp? Have a target goal amount that you need and maybe even include an embedded dynamic graph if possible.

I’m assuming you have a good email strategy for continuing donors, the donor-specific blog posts could be something that you send via email as well.

Blog:

A blog is a fantastic way to add a lot more useful information (and improve the SEO) to your site. Each blog post could be optimized for a specific keyword (or search term) that someone may be looking for. Here is a list of ideas for blog posts that you could do. You could also email relevant posts out to your separate email lists based on the topic, and always send them to your website within the email. (So the email is a short summary about what the article is, but to read the rest they have to click on the link to your website.)

Technical Issues

Overall, your website is very healthy, with not many technical issues. But there are a couple of things I would recommend that you fix…

Missing Meta Descriptions

Meta descriptions are used by search engines to display your page's description in search results. A good description helps users know what your page is about and encourages them to click on it. If your page's meta description tag is missing, search engines will usually display its first sentence, which may be irrelevant and unappealing to users. Make sure that all of your web pages have meta descriptions that contain relevant keywords.

Google picks the meta descriptions for you if you don't type them in yourselves. And from the looks of it, Google is doing a nice job with what they are showing. But it's always nice to be in control of what they show, so I recommend adding your own. Here's what is showing now (the meta descriptions are the black text below each page.

Orphaned Pages

An orphaned page is a web page that is not linked to internally. Including orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files is considered to be a bad practice, as these pages will be crawled by search engines. Crawling outdated orphaned pages will waste your crawl budget. If an orphaned page in your sitemap.xml file has valuable content, you should link to it internally. Your orphaned pages all seem to be past events and an old volunteer form, etc. You should delete these pages or at least block them from your sitemap. Here is a link to all of your orphaned pages.

Off- Page SEO

Off-Page Search Engine Optimization is all of the things that happen off of your website that can help your search engine rankings. This includes links and your Google My Business profile.

Backlink Strategy

Having good quality websites linking to your website is a huge boost in SEO. Here I'll show you your current backlinks, some backlinks that your competitors have, and some opportunities to earn more backlinks.

Current backlinks:

Here is a list of your current backlinks. You have a nice variety of quality backlinks, but could use quite a bit more. Events like your 5K earned you some good ones, so it would be helpful to continue to do lots of events like that. In addition, I'd like to focus on getting backlinks with a variety of purposes, so not just awareness of your nonprofit, but also as recommended places to volunteer and to donate for childhood cancer.

Other Backlink Opportunities

Reach out to your current sponsors and referring hospitals and make sure that you are linked on their websites if possible. Anyone who you have already linked in your Family Resources page could potentially link back to you as well. In addition, you can reach out to any cancer related websites as a resource. Here's an example of one that would be perfect for you. https://together.stjude.org/en-us/for-families/summer-camps.html

Don't forget to contact the media to be added to lists and for features. You could even write a guest-post. Here's an example of an article by the Seattle Times that they wrote about Camp Sparkle. https://www.seattletimes.com/seattle-news/seattle-nonprofits-summer-camp-offers-kinship-for-kids-touched-by-cancer/

I would target the media specifically toward getting volunteers. Many media sources make lists for places to volunteer. Here is an example. https://www.parentmap.com/article/volunteer-opportunities-for-kids

I would definitely recommend reaching out to Parent Map and Seattle Child for volunteer promotion.

In addition, you could get added to recommended lists from high schools, school districts, and universities. Here is an example from UW. https://hr.uw.edu/cfd/2023/07/26/summer-volunteer-opportunities/

Google My Business

I see that you already have a nice Google My Business account set up with plenty of photos. Just as we are working to optimize your website, as a local business, it's just as important (if not more so) to optimize your GMP profile. Here are some recommendations I have for you to optimize your Google My Business profile.

- ☐ Make your description longer and more detailed.
- ☐ Add more photos and videos. Geo-tag your photos and keep adding more videos/photos weekly if possible. https://www.geoimgr.com/
- ☐ Write 3 questions and answers. Think of this as a FAQ page. What are the top 3 questions people ask. Yes, you can write your own questions and answers on your profile.
- ☐ Try to get more reviews from both volunteers and families. Reply to every review and make it personal if you can.
- ☐ Utilize the "updates" to make little free advertisements - things like now accepting volunteers, sign up for families opens on (this date), or end of year charity giving, etc.
- ☐ Add your instagram profile (and any other socials)

Free Ad Opportunities for Nonprofits

You can sign up for Google Ad Grants for nonprofits. This is FREE ad money, so don't miss out on this! Use the grant money to run ads targeted at donors from now until at least the end of December. You could also run a free ad targeting volunteers January through late spring if you struggle to find enough volunteers.

Once you get this set up, I can help write the ad copy for you based off of keyword research.

Prioritized To-Do List

- ☐ Bring participants, volunteers, and donors from this summer to your website for a review of how camp went this year. You can do this by posting a gallery of photos from this camp or you could write your first blog post. Send out an email to everyone involved and include the link.
- ☐ On-Page Optimization recommendations in this order:
    - ☐ Homepage
        - ☐ Add the pop-up to donate as well
        - ☐ Donate
        - ☐ Blog (after your camp recap post, focus on some donor-focused content)
        - ☐ Volunteer (could wait until January)
        - ☐ Families (could wait until January)
- ☐ Free Ads with Google Ad Grants - focus on donors
- ☐ Fix Technical Issues
- ☐ Off-Page SEO
- ☐ Optimize your GMB profile
- ☐ Backlink opportunities

Optimization is an ongoing journey. Even if your site achieves a perfect score, there's always room to enhance it further. It also takes a while to see goals come to life.
